GREAT OPPORTUNITY IN CAREER

I have been given the opportunity and confidence in designing the interior of the museum in terms of layout and graphic design needed in this process to be achieved in the museum design process. It took several weeks in the process of generating ideas and then putting all the creativity in computer for design process. Once all the designs goes smoothly and are agreed upon, then the printing process start, frame making and so on. Throughout the process, there are also many assumptions as well as new things I've learned in the process of maturing. After going through the difficult days of setting up the museum on a set date, it all went smoothly and yielded good results and another great day of my career as a graphic designer.
